

Welcome to 3bowlers.com!

2010 is here! 3bowlers.com would like to welcome you to another competitive year.

We are looking forward to bringing 3bowlers.com tournaments to the Fremont and Santa Clara areas this year. We are pleased to announce a Mixed Doubles and an Outlaw Mixed Trios events, the first in Santa Clara and the second in Stockton - we will continue to end the year with the 10 gamer and like last year it will be a "Toys for Tots" tournament. We have enjoyed providing you with a variety of tournaments over the past Five years and look forward to the continued growth.

"Congratulations" to last year's champions, award score shooters, and everyone who has cashed. A look back at our stats shows that 84% of the bowlers walked away with cash by placing, side pots or brackets. If you have been to this site before, "Welcome Back" and be sure to check out the tournament schedule. If this is your first visit, we invite you to explore all the extras our site offers like pin fall totals, averages, a champions page (with equipment used), and prize fund tracking. For 2009, 3bowlers.com will continue to sanction all of our tournaments through the USBC. Our tournament will remain to have a 1:4 cashing ration

We look forward to bringing you competitive tournaments in 2009: some tournaments last year weren't decided until the 10th frame of the last game. If you are thinking of competing in a 3bowlers.com tournament for the first time, we run computerized brackets and side pots at every event. We appreciate your opinions; please feel free to contact us with your feedback (positive or constructive).

3bowlers.com will continue to NOT support USBC rule 400 for youth bowlers. Being former junior bowlers, we believe that youth bowlers should increase their skills through junior events and competitions. Therefore, we will NOT allow any USBC youth bowlers to participate in any event run by 3bowlers.com.

3Bowlers.com is now on Facebook

We wish everyone a successful and prosperous 2010!
